China just put 25% duties on US soybeans

The tariff covers 106 US products and arrived less than 24 hours after the US published its own list of Chinese imports to target.

No start date has been set

The effective date for the new duties is still open. The announcement is out, but the timing is not.

China is the biggest US soybean buyer

Tariffs could shift Chinese buying to Brazil and Argentina, pushing US beans into other markets.

Takeaway: watch beans, meal and veg oils

Extra US beans looking for a home could pressure vegetable oil prices, palm oil included. Soybean meal feeds China's hogs, so feed costs matter too.
